

polip Festival:

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN: WHAT ABOUT THE ECOLOGY QUESTION?

14-16 May, Prishtina

Panel discussion: A COMPARATIVE LOOK: THE ECOLOGY QUESTION ON STAGE ACROSS CONTEXTS

 Location: Hani i 2 Robertëve

 Date: Friday, 15 May

 Time: 18:00 - 19:30

Language: English and Albanian

Free Entry

Speakers: Lisa Horvath (Graz, Austria) - Theatremaker; Borisav Matic (Belgrade, Serbia) - Theatre Critic, Besim Ugzmajli (Prishtina, Kosovo) - Independent Theater Director.
Moderator: Uran Haxha (Kosovo)

This conversation brings together theatre practitioners from different contexts in a dialogue shaped by artistic practice, environmental urgency, and the shifting place of ecology in public discourse. The discussion will reflect on how ecological questions are being articulated on stage today across different contexts, how different theatre languages engage with the climate and environmental crisis, and what similarities and differences emerge across distinct social and cultural contexts. We want to look into theatre's capacity not only to represent the world we live in, but also to challenge the silences, blind spots, and urgencies that define it.

polip
FESTIVAL

Friday, 15 May

18:00 – 19:30

Hani i 2 Robertëve

Panel Discussion:
A Comparative Look:
The Ecology Question
on Stage Across Contexts

Speakers: Lisa Horvath,
Borisav Matic,
Besim Ugzmajli

Moderator: Uran Haxha
In English and Albanian

FUTURE NARRATIVES
For Planet Earth

gendo multimedia

 Austrian Embassy
Pristina